- Data:
- 22 Registered Runners, 22 Starters, 21 Finishers.
  - The 4th Le Grizz showed a marked improvement in the times of entrants who started running ultras 2 or 3 years ago at earlier Le Grizz runs. Race Managements' primary goal is to provide the experience of finishing for all who would Go For It. The cadre of developing regional runners and their competitive camaraderie is a welcome bonus.
  - The race brochures' promise of "an outside chance of foul horrible weather" came true for anyone who was outside. It was the usual miserable scene at the starting line camp: 34 degrees, and everything drenched from overnight rain, snow and sleet.
  - Jim Pomroy bettered his personal record by 22 minutes in his 4th 50 miler. At the firing of the Official Le Grizz Starting Device he blasted off, ran alone all day, cleared the marathon in 2.56, and then put 13 more minutes on his lead to win. Doug Clark surged from 4th place at 35 miles to take 2nd. Rick Spady, running 3 minutes faster than his winning time in the 1982 Le Grizz, took 3rd.
  - Bobbie Dixon ran in the classic style, setting an early pace and riding it unrelenting to the finish. To no ones' surprise she won for the 4th straight time. To everyones' surprise she carved 30 minutes off her previous PR. As of race day this performance was the 2nd fastest 50 miles by a woman in North America this year, and makes her the 6th fastest on the continent for all time.
  - Steve Heaps made a special effort in his 4th Le Grizz, setting a PR and taking home his first Masters trophy.
  - Rita Drain returned for her 2nd womens' Masters win in 2 starts.
  - Jim Pomroy, Steve Heaps, Lyle Williams, and Bobbie Dixon all completed their 4th Le Grizz.
